

The screenshot shows the Visual Studio Code editor with the file `registrasi.php` open. The code implements a registration logic that checks if a user is already registered by name and if the passwords match. It uses MySQLi for database operations. The code is as follows:

```
1 <?php
2
3 include("../configur/connection.php");
4
5 if(isset($_POST['daftar'])) {
6     $email = $_POST['email'];
7     $nama = $_POST['nama'];
8     $noHp = $_POST['no_Hp'];
9     $password1 = $_POST['password'];
10    $password2 = $_POST['password2'];
11
12    // mengecek di dalam database
13    $cek_user = mysqli_query($connect,"SELECT * FROM user_suffy WHERE nama = '$nama'");
14    $cek_login = mysqli_num_rows($cek_user);
15
16    // mengecek ada di dalam database atau tidak
17    if ($cek_login > 0) {
18        echo "<script>
19            alert ('username telah terdaftar');
20            window.location = 'registrasi.php';
21        </script>";
22    } else {
23        if ($password1 != $password2) {
24            echo "<script>
25                alert ('kata sandi yang anda masukkan tidak sesuai');
26                window.location = 'registrasi.php';
27            </script>";
28        } else {
29            mysqli_query($connect, "INSERT INTO user_suffy VALUES('','$email','$nama','$noHp','$password1')");
30            echo "<script>
31                alert ('data berhasil disimpan');
32                window.location = '../index.php';
33            </script>";
34        }
35    }
36 }
```

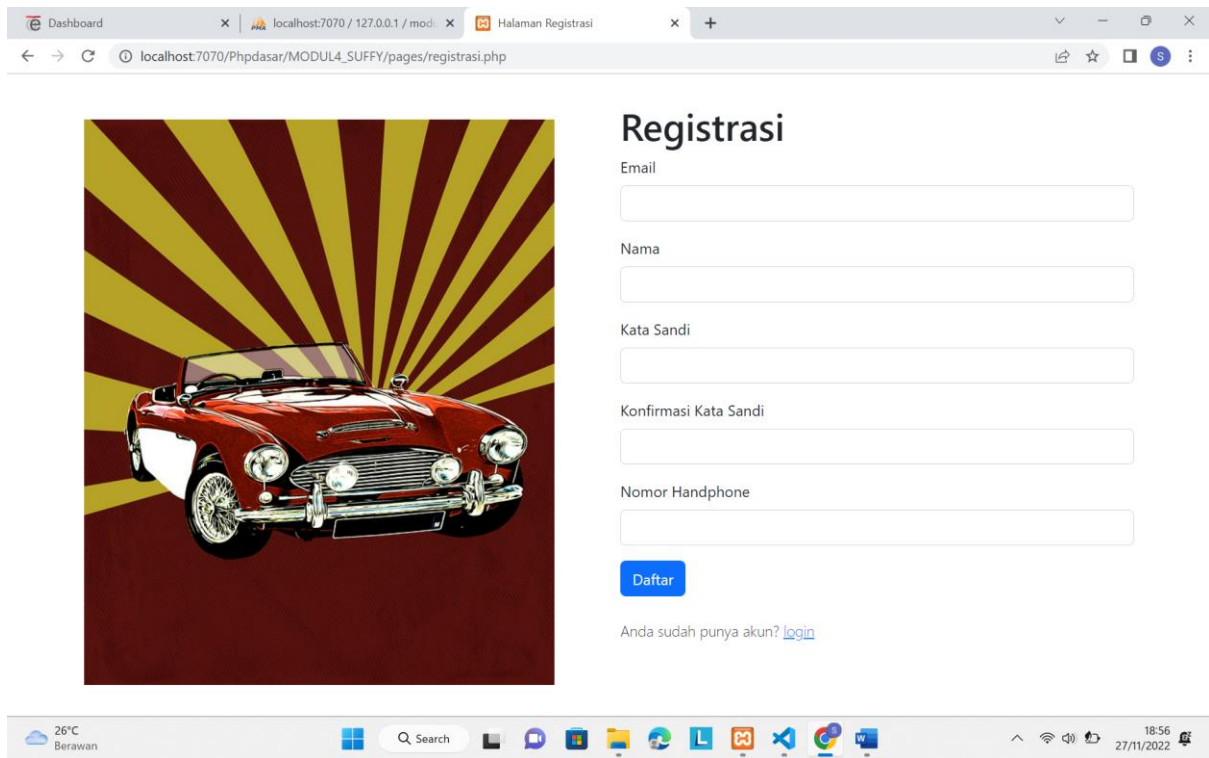

The screenshot shows the Visual Studio Code editor with the file `registrasi.php` open, displaying the HTML structure of the registration form using Bootstrap. The code is as follows:
